GREAT DAM NEARLY PAU

Wahiawa Will See Work Completed in Two Weeks.

With regard to the great Wahiawa dam of the Waialua Agricultural Co., Manager W. W. Goodale last night gave the following particulars:

"We expect to finish the dam and shut the gate within two weeks from today. As soon as the dam is completed and the gates are shut, the dam will begin to accumulate or store up water.

"Below the dam there are two large ditches with a total capacity of 40,000,000 gallons of water per day, which are now in use and have been for several years. These ditches deliver water at the 400-foot level on the north side of the Kaukonahua stream—that is the stream the dam is on. There is another ditch on the 270-foot level on the south side of Kaukonahua stream. Water from these two ditches can be, and now is being, used on an area of 4000 acres of land that is under cultivation, and about 300 acres more not under cultivation can be watered from the same ditches.

"The ditch leading from the outlet of the dam and which delivers water at the 725-foot level is not yet finished, but is nearly done and will be entirely completed before the first of June, which is the earliest date that the water will be needed at that elevation.

"The statement that the dam cannot be used until this ditch or any other ditch is completed is erroneous. The water is being used now and the completion of the dam will allow us to save all fresh water in times of great floods, and any excess of water in the stream over and above the daily needs for irrigation from the present ditches.

"We began actual construction of the dam about a year ago, and are doing the last strokes of work now filling the tunnels. The engineers was H. C. Kellogg from Santa Ana, California. There are about 26,000 cubic yards of masonry, 141,000 cubic yards of earth, and 2000 cubic yards of riprap on the upper face of the dam. The dam is in perfect condition. There have been no accidents and the work has gone on very successfully from the start. The cost is about $250,000.

SEA BIRDS.

NEW ORLEANS, December 6.—Recently President Roosevelt dedicated five islands situated on the southeast coast of the state of Louisiana as a game preserve, under the title of Breton Reservation. One of these is six miles long and averages one half mile in width. And now, supplementing that action, the Lake Borgne Board of Louisiana has rented to the Audubon Society of this state 17 islands on the coast, in the near vicinity of Breton Reservation, with a total area of 3,000 acres. The purpose of the Audubon Society, as well as that of the Department of Agriculture, in whose charge the reservation has been placed, is to raise wild sea birds on these islands, and to carry out that plan the National Committee of Audubon Societies, of which William Dutcher, of New York, is president, have hired men to constantly patrol the adjacent waters of the gulf and to watch the islands to prevent trespassing.

TAKAHIRA TAKES CARE.

Minister Takahira is circumspect in his tribute to the president's work as a peace-maker. Addressing the Asiatic Society in New York, he said: "But your great president offered his good offices and brought together the two warring nations to meet for the negotiation of peace, which resulted in the conclusion of the treaty of Portsmouth." This is hardly saying that the president made peace. Perhaps the minister thinks that the envoys and their governments did that.

KING OF DETECTIVES A STIRRING DRAMA

About twenty years ago a poor property man working for eight dollars per week in a small country theater in Wisconsin discovered a valuable fact. That fact was that the American theater-goer loves an exciting play. Not much of a discovery you will say, yet as the result of that discovery the poor property man of twenty years ago resides in a brownstone mansion today with a half million to his credit while his companies and plays are amusing thousands all over the world.

That property man's name is Lincoln J. Carter and in his best days he never produced a more exciting play than "The King of Detectives," that startling melodrama which the Bühler company produced for the first time in Honolulu last night.

Exciting situations, startling climaxes, comedy and pathos, laughter and tears, that tells the story.

At certain climaxes the cheers of an enthusiastic Orpheum audience could be heard at the Young Hotel.

The mechanical effects in "The King of Detectives" were a revelation to the audience. The scene in which Mr. Bühler as the detective, rescues Miss Fowler, the heroine, who is thrown from the flying machine by Mr. Lowell, the villain, was very effective.

If such effects can be produced now on so small a stage, there can be no limit to the grandeur of the effects that will be given after the stage is enlarged, which will be next week, when the company will lay off for a much needed rest.

"The King of Detectives" will be repeated tonight and tomorrow night for the last time.

The usual matinee will be given tomorrow afternoon.

IMMIGRATION BOARD WITH THE GOVERNOR

Joseph P. Cooke, J. J. Carden and J. H. Craig, members of the Board of Immigration, had a conference with Governor Carter yesterday afternoon. When they came out they stated that there was nothing definite to communicate to the public.

"They were merely revolving what course to take," the Governor said, "and trying to get down to a definite understanding of their work. There is no conclusion as yet, but everything is going on all right."

A conductor's transfer punch was found on Bethel street last night. Owner may have same on applying at the Advertiser office.
